

OHIO FACING POLITICAL HISTORY

State is Going to Have Prohibition Fights Continuously and Unending.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE QUESTION UP AGAIN

More Battles Centering Around Limitation or Non-Limitation of Initiative and Referendum Are in Store for Buckeye People.

Special Columbus Correspondent.
Columbus, Nov. 4.—Ohio is facing political history, if you please, and plenty of it. She is going to have prohibition fights continuously and unendingly. She is going to have more battles centering around the limitation or the non-limitation of the initiative and referendum. She is going to have a woman suffrage fight, perhaps, next year. All these things will come to her for sure, in addition to other things that may come by chance. Defeated by a lesser majority than one year ago, the Ohio drags are plunging themselves for another fight. On their side, the wetts are preparing entrenchments for another defense. In fact, the plans of both sides for next year's fight were made before the result of Tuesday's election was known. Meanwhile the promoters of the Stability league amendment, which sought to limit to six-year periods all proposals that might be defeated twice within a six-year period are starting their fight for a resubmission of their amendment. So that fight is certain to come. The suffrage forces here are admittedly discouraged by the defeat of their cause in three eastern states Tuesday, but their leaders aver they are not disconsolate. They are going to plan a fight for propaganda sake, if nothing else. Moreover, the Ohio suffragists may turn more of their attention in the interim to a support of the Susan B. Anthony amendment, or that amendment proposed for the constitution of the United States that would write equal suffrage into the basic law of the land.

No Special Session of Assembly.
It now seems to be a settled fact that there will be no special session of the general assembly during the coming winter. Had the prohibition amendment carried, an extraordinary session almost necessarily would have followed for the reason that legislation would have been essential to carry the prohibition amendment into effect. It is not believed here that the governor will see fit to call the assemblymen to pass a law to replace the defeated McDermott liquor license law. So with no session of the legislature, the prospect is for general quietude during the immediate future.

REBEL CHIEFTAIN, FACING LACK OF FOOD, WITHDRAWS TROOPS FROM AGUA PRIETA.

Villa, forced by hunger, thirst and a scanty supply of ammunition to abandon his plan for an immediate assault on the strongly entrenched village of Agua Prieta, commenced withdrawing his army Wednesday, and shortly after 9 o'clock most of his force was moving toward Anavachal pass, 12 miles southwest.

It is his apparent intention to reach water, which is plentiful further southwest, and provision his hungry men.

SAYS DATE FOR PEACE TALK IS STILL DISTANT

Premier Briand Declares That France Is Not Continuing the War With Ideas of Conquest.

Paris, Nov. 4.—An announcement of tremendous importance was made in the chamber of deputies by Premier Briand, who said that France was not continuing the war with the ideas of conquest.

"I refuse to believe," he said, "that my country will allow petty or egotistical aims to influence her at the moment of the discussion of peace. When that moment arrives there will be no room for tyrannical thoughts."

M. Briand also said that the date for serious peace talk was "unfortunately distant."

The new premier's second speech, following the ministerial declaration, was one of the most remarkable pieces of oratory ever heard in the chamber.

Tears stood in the eyes of every deputy when he appealed to them to continue the holy political union "for the sake of the nation, for its gallant soldiers and for the women, who from behind their veils, follow the war with serene confidence."

The earliest moment for the discussion of peace, M. Briand said, would be "when Germany has evacuated all the conquered countries, including Serbia, when she has ceased to be a people of prey, and when she will be unable for long years to trouble the peace of the world again."

Following Premier Briand's speech a vote of confidence in the new ministry was taken in the chamber of deputies. It was almost unanimous, the vote being 515 to 1.

GERMANY WOULD PUT CASE UP TO THE HAGUE

Outline of Status of Negotiations Between U. S. and Kaiser on Destruction of Lusitania is Obtained.

Washington, Nov. 4.—An authoritative outline of the status of the negotiations between the United States and Germany on the Lusitania case has just been obtained.

Germany has proposed to this government that the question of her liability for the payment of indemnity for the loss of more than 100 American lives, as well as the amount to be paid, shall be submitted to The Hague for arbitration.

In line with its general policy of refusing to arbitrate questions involving the lives of American citizens, the United States at present is not inclined to accept the offer. The position of this government is that Germany must acknowledge fully and unconditionally her responsibility for the loss of Americans on the Lusitania and her liability for indemnity.

Germany has indicated plainly to this government that a disavowal of the sinking of the Lusitania is out of the range of possibilities, inasmuch as the submarine commander who torpedoed the vessel was acting under general instructions which permitted him to attack British vessels without warning. Germany is willing, however, to tender a complete expression of regret for the incident. It is well understood that the state department does not expect an actual disavowal from Germany, and therefore it is believed in official circles that a satisfactory arrangement can be reached on this phase of the subject and that an adequate expression of regret from Germany will be acceptable.

The negotiations on the Lusitania, which were resumed following the settlement of the Arabic controversy, are now proceeding smoothly, it is said, and without the possibility of friction. Officials of the state department feel they have reason to believe that Germany will not insist that the question of her liability be submitted to arbitration. The department understands that Germany is willing to pay indemnity, the only question being whether she shall make such an offer voluntarily or wait upon the decision of a Hague tribunal. Germany believes, it is said in official circles, that The Hague tribunal would decide that she was liable for indemnity, for the reason that The Hague, being an establishment for the encouragement of peace, has a tendency to decide in favor of a neutral as against a belligerent. This understanding is accepted as convincing evidence that Germany fully expects to be called upon to pay.

DAVIS WINS BY 2,831

MAYOR-ELECT OF CLEVELAND GETS PLURALITY ON TOTAL OF ALL CHOICE VOTES.

Cleveland, Nov. 4.—Final figures on Tuesday's election show that Harry L. Davis, although led by Peter Witt in first choice votes, will go into the office of mayor on a plurality of 2,831 votes on a total of all choice votes.

The total figures give Davis 38,844 first choice votes, $549 second choice and 2,378 other choices, a total of 47,771. Witt's figures were 39,569 first choice votes, 3,569 second choice and 1,519 other choices, the total being 44,940 on all choices.

This computation shows Witt led Davis by 3,017 on first choice votes; Davis led Witt by 4,980 on second choice alone. Davis failed by 3,863 of getting a majority of the total first choice votes, which was 105,269.

THE TRUE GAMBLER

Play the game and play it hard. Though your luck looks grim to you; Back the worth of every card. And, if cards won't come to you, Don't give over to despair. Play as though the cards were there!

For the poorest hand of all. May assure the game to you; If your bluff don't get a call. It is just the name to you. As if luck to you should bring Four big aces and a king.

What if some one calls? Ah, well, You must buy a stack again. Luck may leave you for a spell, But it must come back again. If you play with all your wit. All your skill and nerve and grit.

Life's the game—so play it hard. Dare the woe or mirth of it; Back up each and every card. To the utmost worth of it. Pikers find existence tame. If you live—why, play the game! —Berton Braley.
